

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An ATM management system providing terminal definition and deployment, cash management, contractual terms and conditions, data recording and reconciliation among separate data entities, income and expense management and overall operational visibility into and controllability of substantially the entire business surrounding multiple ATM terminal installations and multiple partner arrangements related thereto, enabling terminal owners or partners to know how to download and utilize real time data generated at the ATMs per se and make use of it in efficiently managing ATMs.

T04T 320660